Look at Poor China
Jewish Theater for Berlin
Curious Sugar Deal
About Crime

If you worry about your own country, which is not necessary, turn to poor old China. The Yellow River, having left its regular bed eighty-one years ago, is trying to break its way back to that old, comfortable bed again.

It has swept away dikes and inundated more than 2,000 villages in its effort to flow as it used to flow. Man's "dominion over the earth" is still imperfect.

This country, with all its money and all its engineering skill, has not learned to control the Mississippi.

Mr. Hitler's government permits "an all-Jewish theater for Berlin." everybody connected with it must be a Jew and it may offer no tickets at public sale.

There will be no difficulty in assembling a good cast, and the diminishing number of visitors to Berlin will try to get tickets to that theater.

If two of the greatest actresses that ever lived, Rachel and Bernhardt, were alive, they would both be eligible for the cast, under Nazi rules.

Sugar is a complicated crop. For instance our navy buys sugar for warships in the Pacific and has just given a huge order to Japanese sugar traders, because they can undersell growers that produce sugar in the American Philippines. Japanese buy sugar from Java, sell it at a profit, for half the cost price in Manila, and pay no United States tariff. Labor in Java is paid very little. There is no NRA there. Why could not the navy buy sugar from southern cane growers, or beet sugar growers near Salt Lake City? All very puzzling.

Governor Lehman of New York says "professional gang elements preying upon lawful industry have grown to such proportions that drastic measures are immediately needed."

Mr. Mulrooney, formerly police commissioner of New York, wants "an American Devil's Island" to discourage racketeers, and advocates the use of the lash.

General Smedley D. Butler has a plan that would discourage racketeering and gangsterism, but nobody [illegible] answer questions and prove that he had been earning a living otherwise than in crime, with jail as the alternative.

A grand jury official tells Senator Copeland that witnesses against gangsters "stand before us terrified, perspiration standing out upon them, afraid to speak out."

Racketeers, it seems, keep spies around the grand jury room, and whoever talks is quickly punished.

Agents of the United States government are showing "regular policemen" how to catch criminals and make kidnaping and murder unsafe. The most important capture is that of Harvey Bailey, accused of the wholesale massacre of four police officers and one prisoner in Kansas City.

Mr. Bailey had said:

"I shall never be taken alive."

But when, waking from a sound sleep, he looked into the barrel of a machine gun, he said:

"Well, it looks like it's just too bad, doesn't it?"

And offered his wrists to the handcuffs.

For him it may be much too bad, as he is wanted for murder, connected with kidnaping in Missouri. There the penalty for either crime is death, and they inflict it.

Mr. Lawes, warden of Sing Sing Prison, says of crime conditions, that "if we don't declare martial law, conditions will lead to lynch law; then we must declare martial law."

He says racketeers can be suppressed in sixty days and "if I were a Mussolini, I could do it in thirty days."

He might have said "fifteen days," but where is the Mussolini?

Back from Europe, Dr. William J. Mayo, distinguished surgeon, says children should be sophisticated. The more they know the better. The old secretive method is false and harmful, "the new generation can teach the old generation a great deal."

The old generation admits it.

Doctor Mayo says American colleges total approximately one million students at a time, while there are only 50,000 students in British institutions of higher learning."

With 1,000,00 college men here against 50,000 in Britain, we ought to be much more learned and capable than the British. But are we?

No American will say that Cubans are not "up to date." When Machado left, and news wires and sources were reopened, the able Havana newspaper, El Mundo, demanded first of all "the complete baseball scores for several days back."

Final Concert Is Great Success

Peninsula Orchestra Is Playing An Important Part In The Cultural Life of The State

The final concert of the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra was an overwhelming success—the crowded house was carried away with a feeling of pride and affection for the achievement of their own orchestra, and above all, for the leader, Penha.

The orchestra opened the concert with the Bloch Concerto, magnificently played. Mildred Sahlstrom Wright, soloist in the Vivaldi concert played splendidly, and received great applause. She showed her truly fine musicianship and her great ability. In a village of talented people, her ability stands out.

The Egmont overture was stirringly played, and received tremendous applause. Shouts of "Bravo" rang through the auditorium, and the enthusiastic crowd stamped and clapped its appreciation.

Young David Hagemeyer read a letter from the orchestra to Penha, after his second bow, pledging the support and affection of the members, and begging him to remain as their leader.

Mrs. Henry Dickinson, president of the Carmel Music Society, spoke of the desire of the society to continue with the wonderful work of the orchestra, which in so short a time has developed so magnificently. She told of the heavy expense of carrying on with the work, and several hundred dollars were pledged. Still more is coming in this week, and it looks as though the orchestra will be able to go on through another year.

After the intermission, Frederick Search played his composition, receiving a fine ovation. He was brought back for several bows, and his work was much praised.

Ralph Linsley's playing of the solo obligato in the Bloch concerto was outstanding, and deserving of special mention. The evening closed with a feeling of great enthusiasm for Penha and the orchestra, and a determination to continue the fine work.

IMPROMPTU RECEPTION HELD FOR ORCHESTRA

The spirit of enthusiasm which was the keynote of the audience at the Tuesday evening concert of the orchestra was transferred to the Denny-Watrous gallery of terwards, when over two hundred people gathered there to congratulate the orchestra.

The board of the Music Society were hosts, serving coffee and cakes to the enthusiastic group.

ATTENTION CARMEL

For the first time an intercity game of baseball is to be played at night when a picked team from the Abalone League is to play against a similar team from Pacific Grove. The team is to be captained by Fred Godwin of La Playa Hotel. Doc Staniford and Eddie Burns are to be umpires. Burns, it will be remembered, was catcher in the Philadelphia league when they won the championship game in the world series.

Doc Staniford was also a professional player as he was in the Coast league. Carl Josselyn and Robert Leidig are on the committee on arrangements.

It is hoped that a good lot of rooters will be willing to go and show their loyalty to the old home town.

Miss May Sherwin of Los Angeles stopped on her way to San Francisco to visit Mrs. E. G. Brown of the Betsy-Ann Food Shop. Miss Sherwin was so charmed with her short stay that she plans to return on her way back to Los Angeles.

CLOSING CONCERT OF SUMMER SERIES ON 29TH

The Penha Piano Quartet makes its final appearance this summer in the closing concert of the Carmel Music Society Summer Series on Tuesday evening next, August 29, in the Sunset school auditorium.

The series of orchestral and chamber concerts could not come to a more colorful climax than with the brilliant Chausson Concerto, which is the high spot of Tuesday's program. The concert is in the form of a sextet, for solo violin and solo piano and string quartet. Nathan Abas and Ralph Linsley are the soloists, Abraham Weiss, viola, Michel Penha, cello of the Penha Piano Quartet and two assisting violinists from San Francisco, Mafalda Guaraldi and Cicely Edmonds. Mafalda Guaraldi is a professional violinist who has been heard over the radio and who recently won her audience in Carmel by leading the "seconds" in the last orchestra concert. Cicely Edmonds is a gifted pupil of Nathan Abas.

Other members on this last program are the quartet for piano, violin, viola and cello by Stewart, and a piece for viola [illegible]

Local Red Cross Helps Needy

Many Emergencies Quickly Met By Local Branch In Helping Needy

The Carmel Chapter of the American Red Cross is filling a very necessary need in endeavoring to meet emergency requests of any kind whatsoever. After the emergency has been met, definite plans are made for continued help if needed. These plans sometimes include State or County aid or medical services.

The State of California provides generous old age pensions for persons over 70 years of age who have been residents of the state for 15 years or more. Such persons may be the owners of property assessed to the value of $5000. Eligible blind persons may also receive state pensions, as may widowed mothers of children under 16. An allowance is made for each child under that age. In the case of a father being totally disabled help is given both for the children and himself.

Monterey County is quite elastic in the help it furnishes to its legal residents. In cases where this sort of help is needed the Red Cross bridges the gap and brings those in need of aid to those who can and will provide it. There are no strings attached to whatever the Red Cross does. As has been said many times, the Red Cross is the Univrsal Mother.

Transient men are not given aid by the local chapter of the Red Cross for the simple reason the Salvation Army functions in such cases. At least, it will always give dinner, a night's lodging, and breakfast to a weary man before sending him again on his way.

WOMEN'S CLUB HAS INTERESTING MEETING

[illegible] of the officials of Women's clubs of Monterey Peninsula to attend the first meeting of the year.

This club as we all know is a social organization of Carmel Women. It has diverse sections and each section makes of its particular subject a specialty. Last year many interesting programs were presented. In fact many were of such outstanding merit as to merit repetition.

The President, Mrs. Emma Rentdorff was re-elected at the expiration of her term and has appointed a large and efficient staff of directors. The membership has at all times exceeded one hundred and it is hoped that this will be a banner year with many added new members.

Each year the club enjoys a holiday during the months of June July and September. Perhaps that is one reason for the enthusiasm the members feel towards their several branches.

The Garden Club of Carmel is one section of the Women's Club. A letter has been received extending an invitation to a flower festival to be held at San Leandro September 14, 15, 16, 17. It is to be known as El Paso de las Flores. It is the 9th annual flower show of San Leandro and is the largest one attempted.

Among the many interesting features will be Picturesque Japanese Flower Garden, Wild Flowers from Australia. Sensational new roses, Mrs. Roosevelt and Better Times, exotic orchids, rare birds and model gardens designed for small lots and tea terraces will be seen.

STAYING IN CARMEL

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stone are receiving congratulations of their friends over the arrival of twin girls. Mrs. Stone was for some time an usherette at the local picture house and her many friends will be glad to know that both she and the babies are doing well.

HAVE TWIN GIRLS

Mrs. D'Angula and Miss Nancy Van de Griendt are staying in Carmel while Dr. D'Angula is recovering from the automobile accident of recent date. Many will recall the details as it happened in Big Sur, and all will be pleased to hear that the doctor is improving, though slowly.

Carmel Tax Rate Same Next Year

City Council Refuses to Cut Tax Rate In Spite of Strong Opposition

Carmel's tax rate wil remain at $1.15 per $100 of assessed valuation for another year at least. That was the decision of the village council following lengthy discussion of a proposed increase.

In the face of strong opposition from Mayor John Catlin and announcement by Argyll Campbell, city attorney, that Carmel wil probably receive between $1500 and $2000 when gas tax refunds are made to cities, plans for raising the rate approximately four cents were dropped.

Next year's tax rate, the same as at present, provides 98c for the general fund, 21c for the library fund, 4c to return sand dunes bonds and 8c to retire fire engine bonds.

COUNTY TAX RATES FIXED BY SUPERVISORS

Monterey county's new budget fixed at the meeting of the board of supervisors at Monday's meeting makes the "inside" tax rate $1.32 per $100 of assessed valuation and the "outside" rate $1.42.

Slight salary cuts were voted by the supervisors, with the ten per cent cut extended to include the livestock inspector and the county librarian and her assistant.

Provision was made for the [illegible] month is expected to develop to take care of the school budgets, as the state board of equalization has not yet passed upon them.

NEWS FROM THE RING

By J. E. D.

About two hundred fight fans motored across the hill to the Presidio bowl and watched the soldiers plaster each other with six-ounce Spalding fighting gloves.

One of the fighters in one of the first bouts must have thought he was fighting on a street corner. It was his first fight and he didn't know what it was all about. He knocked the enemy for a loop. Didn't wait for him to get up, but carried the fight to the floor in the very best school-boy fashion.

Big Mitch's boy, Storm, of Salinas, knocked out Battling Bonn of the post in the third round.

Fans who like blood and thunder got an eyeful that night as there were plenty of both.

Every fight was a battle to the finish.

Bob Dalton, Carmel bantam, has joined the Salinas Fight club and from now on will fight under the banner of Big Mitch. Bob's next fight will be September 8 in Salinas.

NEW BUIDING PROJECTED FOR TOP OF CARMEL HILL

The presentation of a rezoning ordinance to the Monterey county board of supervisors this week by Reeve Conover, county engineer, revealed plans of the Del Monte Property company for a $10,000 building to be erected at the top of the Carmel Hill.

The building would serve as a tourist information headquarters for the company. The projected building would be similar to the architecture of the old French consulate building at the corner of Fremont and Abrego streets in Monterey, and of a very distinctive appearance.

FOREST FIRE RAGING IN INDIAN VALLEY

Burning furiously through the brush eight miles from the coast in the heart of the Santa Barbara National forest, a fire which was first observed Sunday is being fought desperately by more than 200 C. C. C. men.

Fear that the fire would turn northward to the watershed of the south fork of the Big Sur was expressed, bringing it directly through the 5,000 acre stretch of national forest burned recently in the Tumajara region.

Army authorities at the Presidio, directed by Ranger John Edwards, are cooperating with the forest service crew, and men and equipment from Anderson Canyon are being directed over the mountains to the Indian Valley.

Pasmore Here Saturday Nite

There has been much music in Carmel but very few song recitals, and none more beautiful than the concert of Radiana Pazmor, contralto, which will be heard in the Denny-Watrous gallery this Saturday evening, August 26, at eight-thirty o'clock.

The beautiful voice, the artistry, and the great magnetic charm of Radiana Pazmor have been heralded afar. Press comment and personal word comes from Paris, London, Berlin, New York of the striking beauty and rare charm of her song recitals.

Musicians have always marveled at this singer who, unlike the vast majority of her colleagues is a thoroughly trained musician. It was her fine musicianship that won for her the interest of Louis Aubert, the distinguished French composer, and that made her soloist with the Padeloup Symphonic Concerts in Paris, and that made her soloist with the London Chamber Music Orchestra. Radiana Pazmor is a member of the distinguished and well-known Pasmore family of Berkeley, the father a composer and teacher, the daughters all musicians. The Pasmore Trio is known throughout the country. But Radiana Pazmor, contralto, stands alone in her art, holding place amidst the famous singers of the country as a recitalist who has charm, creative individuality, who lends to the beauty of her voice an intelligence that recreates the song for her audience, weaving almost a mystic spell of music over them.

Miss Pazmor's program, an unusually beautiful one, is as follows:

Bach—Es ist vollbracht, vergiss ja nicht.—O Jesulein mild.—Ermuntre dich, mein schwacher Geist.—Bist du bei mir.

Bowal—Les Neages.

Faure—Lydia—Les Berceaux.

Saint-Saens—La Danse Macabre.

Edwards—Clouds.

Gibbs—Five Eyes.

Pasmore—Where the Cowslips Grow.

Brahms—Von Ewiger Liebe—Staendchen.

Strauss—Zueignung.

Rodgers Rustin has accepted a position with the General Electric company in Cleveland, Ohio, and is leaving Carmel next Thursday.

Firemen All Set for Big Barbecue

Bands, Sports and Games of All Kinds with Lots of Good Eats Promises Big Time for All

Not long now till the firemen's barbecue and picnic—just next Sunday and then the next, and what a time we're all going to have. For if there is one organization in which everyone is interested it is the volunteer fire department. It isn't always an easy job for them to drop their work and run to a fire, or perhaps be called from a warm bed in the middle of the night, and get drenched, and pull the heavy hose, and risk their lives—but the firemen do it. They give their time to learn fire prevention. They give their efforts for the town. And now Carmel is going to show those firemen that what they do is appreciated.

The boys have no money in their social fund. Any little expense that has come up for a long time for the department has had to come out of their own pockets. A small outlay for a grand and glorious day on your part will replenish this fund.

Every property owner and every resident of Carmel should feel it his bounden duty to buy tickets to this picnic.

And the committee on selling tickets has been meeting with mighty gratifying response—so much so that they are making preparations to entertain at least [illegible] on September 3.

Get out there by 11 o'clock the [illegible] Go through the Carmel [illegible] and out of sight of [illegible] There'll be plenty of signs along the way to pilot you to Indian Village, and if you ain't been to Indian Village yet, you ain't been nowhere.

And remember, when the committee from the sponsors, the Manzanita club, asks you to buy a ticket, that this is one way you can show your appreciation of what Carmel's fire department stands ready to do. Seventy-five cents is not much in comparison to what you might lose were there no such organization.

CLUB MEMBERS WILL ENJOY OUTING

Meeting at the home of their adult advisor, Mrs. Edith Guth, the younger members of the Aunt Elsie club of the Oakland Tribune, made plans for a hike to Hatton Fields next week.

The members of the club are called "witches."

Next week's outing will probably be the last of the season.

The Lesson Sermon also will include the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus established his church and maintained his mission on a spiritual foundation of Christ-healing. He taught his followers that his religion had a divine Principle, which would cast out error and both heal the sick and the sinning. The supremacy of Spirit was the foundation on which Jesus built." (pp. 126-128)

The proposal by the Agricultural Independence Association urging the creation of a municipal forest for Los Angeles in the Owens River and San Fernando valleys has been referred by the City Park Board to the Department of Water and Power, of that city, which controls the areas where planting is urged.

After perusing the state sales tax bill in search of loopholes, Attorney General U. S. Webb has discovered one way to beat paying the tax. Go to prison. In an opinion to Warden Court Smith of Folsom, the attorney general rules that prisoners making purchases from the penitentiary ommissary are not required to pay the state tax.

Establishment of a record unprecedented among California municipalities of the size of Bakersfield was revealed following adjournment of the City Council as a board of equalization without having heard a tax protest in two years. Assessor Dean R. Hurley attributes the remarkable record to the system of co-operative evaluation of property installed by his office in the fiscal year 1929-30.

Palo Alto, the sunny university city, holds and enjoys a reputation for being different. Palo Alto carried out the tradition by voting to be one of the few communities in California where the sale of 3.2 beer is prohibited. When the last ballot was counted recently it was found the voters had defeated a city charter amendment to permit the sale of brew by a vote of 1,174 to 1,016, a dry majority of 158. So Palo Alto will remain beerless.

Fred Meyer, chief of the division of service and supply, state finances department, and member of the state board of control, will be retained by the Rolph administration despite the fact the legislature appropriated no money to pay him. Finance officers said it is planned to pay Meyer's salary of $5,030 a year out of the state emergency fund. In view of the dual capacity in which Meyer serves and the fact the legislature did not abolish his position, the announcement said it is felt an allowance from the emergency fund is justified.

Developed by A. B. Stewart, for twenty-six years a Southern California olive grower, an olive oil plant, complete with hydraulic presses and underground storage tanks, was opened in Exeter recently, as a new addition to Exeter industry. Stewart, who once owned 100 acres of olive orchards in San Bernardino county, moved to Exeter last fall and acquired the 160-acre Gentry grove, the crop from which will be pressed in the new plant. In addition, the output of some 500 acres between Lindsay Orange Cove, will be processed, Stewart said. Only the highest grade fruit will be processed for its oil. The remainder of the crop will be pickled.

Heads of California's state institutions should take it upon themselves to prevent the marriage of feeble-minded persons released on parole. This is the opinion of Attorney General U. S. Webb, who has given a ruling on the subject to Carl E. Applegate, chief of accounting officer of the institutions department.

Mrs. Ellen Rose and her daughter, Miss Elspeth Rose, spent last Tuesday in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Converse are here from Glendale.

The Veterans' Welfare Board at Sacramento is empowered to employ an attorney, Atty.Gen. Webb declared, in spite of the bill Gov. Rolph signed May 3, providing that State departments cannot employ legal counsel. Webb pointed out that on May 28 the Governor signed a bill providing the Veterans' Board could hire expert legal or clerical help and that this bill supersedes the May 3 measure.

More than 4000 checks, totaling approximately $560,000, were mailed recently to members of the California Prune Pool. Announcement of the payment was made by E. W. Stillwell, general manager of the pool. "Packers participating in the industry program have settled in full for all fruit taken by them in five offerings," said Stillwell. "It is expected that with completion of the last offering and total delivery of prunes to the packers that final payments on the 1932 crop of French prunes can be completed in September."

Henry Morgenthau, Jr., governor of the farm credit administration in Washington, D. C., will come to California in about three weeks to confer with farm leaders, President R. W. Blackburn of the California Farm Bureau Federation was advised in a telegram from J. H. Guill, deputy land bank commissioner. Guill's wire said the exact date of the visit would be determined later, but that Morgenthau would be accompanied by A. S. Goss, land bank commissioner. This will be Morgenthau's first visit to California since he took office.

State Finance Director Vandegrift said he is negotiating with certain oil companies, including the Standard Oil Company, by which the State will receive revenue from oil taken from under the State's tidelands. He said at Huntington Beach are seventeen wells that were drilled on the "upland" and that they are draining oil from pools that extend under the State's tidelands. The negotiations may be completed, Vandegrift said, within thirty days, bu he could not estimate the amount of royalty the State will receive.

Every state in the Union and numerous foreign countries were represented in California's huge tourist crop during the first half of 1933. State Register of Motor Vehicles Russell J. Bevans announces 37,529 cars were issued non-resident permits at the border checking stations. He estimates at least 150,000 persons came into the state on the highways during the Winter, Spring and early Summer. Brazil, China, Haiti, Prince Edward Island, England, France and Germany are among the countries included in the tourist total. Oregon topped the states with 4,967 cars, Colorado sent in 2,160, Texas 2,000, New York 1,504, and Illinois 1,452.

California Legionnaires, meeting in Pasadena, in their annual state convention recently, elected Frank Whittemore of Pomona grand chef de gare, highest office in the "Forty and Eight," the stunt society of the organization. Other officers elected were: W. D. Kesselring, Sacramento, grand chef de tram; Tom Estabrook, Los Angeles, grand commissaire de l'intendance; John Pennington, San Bernardino, grand conductor, and William Riley, Sacramento, grande garde de la porte. Places on the executive committee were voted to I. W. Bouldin, Vallejo; H. G. Waters, Watsonville; Gordon Lewis, Fellows; Oliver Powell, Glendora; R. E. Smith, Anaheim, and C. J. Mello of Stockton. Mello also was named national committeeman.

California is spending the price of six candy bars a day each on her school children for educational purposes. Said in another way, it is costing the State 30 cents a day each to educate its youngsters. Nationally, the country spends twice as much for candy and tobacco as it does for education. These interesting side lights are furnished by Dr. Marvin L. Darsie of the University of California Teachers' College at Los Angeles in a survey of national education and its costs. In 1928, Dr. Darsie finds, the Nation spent $2,448,633,581 on public education in all its phases. In the same year it laid down $3,991,460,000 for candy and tobacco. California spent $130,186,176 which is an average of $9857 per year for every child in its elementary schools.

Waiter: Will you have a small black?"

Lady: "No, just medium."

"When I was a little girl, we used to fight over the fish eyes. We strung them for beads," said Helen Ware in a meat market the other day. And Miss Ware wondered what the little girls now-a-days amused themselves with.

Has anyone seen Mr. Joyous lately? That onery, good-for-nothing, no account purp. That lovable Ben Turpin hound? When Joyous, or Mr. Joyous disappears from the public for a time it generally means that someone has misunderstood that playful habit he has of suddenly taking hold of a person's clothes and holding on and has demanded that he be locked up.

Joyous is quite a Carmel character, it being agreed that the big loose-jointed half-bull, half airedale is so ugly, he's beautiful. He favors whom he chooses whenever he chooses with his affection, and when he tires of them, they mean no more to him than, we almost said, an old shoe—but probably not that much.

They tell some tales on this grinning bull dog. Not so long ago, he began playing with a coat which a visitor had placed on the sand while she enjoyed the beach. When she attempted to get the coat away, he refused to let her have it and literally tore it it shreds. He walked up to Bob Norton and took hold of his sweater and Bob was helpless but to go as he was pulled. And this habit of taking hold of someone he takes a fancy to is what gets Joyous tied up every so often, for strangers don't know and are terribly frightened and run to the authorities with a demand that he be put out of the way.

A moving picture man stated that if Joyous could be featured with "Our Gang" comedies just one grin from him would win the hearts of any audience.

Joyous has fine blood in him. Yes sir, his mother was a Nevada dog and got her daily bread by meeting all the train crews as they came in and chiseling whatever they had left in their lunch boxes.

So, here's to Joyous, may he live long and prosper—and choose his friends with care.

People who complain that the abalone they now eat seems more tough that it used to be are not aware probably of the proper method of prepapring this most succulent sea food.

A regular ritual has to be preserved and in this day of hustle and bustle it is too easy to overlook anything that means spending a few extra moments. The first and most necessary thing, of course, is to getyour abalone. Then when it comes to pounding, that simply must be done according to Hoyle or rather according to the prescribed ritual. A rock must be used and each blow must be made to time with the rhythm of the following song:

Oh some folks boast of quail on toast.
Because they think it's tony.
But I'm content to owe my rent
And live on abalone.

On Mission Point, a friendly joint
Where every carb's a crony
And true and kind you'll ever find
The clinging abalone.

He wanders free beside the sea
Where'er the coast is stony
He flaps his wings and madly sings.
The plaintive abalone.

Oh some like ham and some like lamb,
And some like macaroni
But bring me in a pail of gin and a tub of abalone.

Oh some drink rain and some champagne
Or brandy by the pony
But I will try a little rye
With a dash of abalone.

Some live on hope and sons on dope
And some on alimony
But our tom cat, he lives on fat
And tender abalone.
